

Bob Williams
2016 President

Happy New Year folks!!! As the holiday season - from Thanksgiving all the way through New Year's Eve, with all the gatherings of family, friends, and Associations, the delicious foods and deserts, finally comes to an end, I take a deep breath and say WHEW that was great but I'm glad it's over. The calories will linger a bit longer.

The past few months have been unseasonably warm with temperatures 10-20 degrees or more above normal, which allows for the bees to fly on most days, and the forecast promises the same throughout the winter with maybe a few heavy snows. These conditions also allow for the bees to consume their winter food stores at a much higher rate. After making sure the bees had enough food stored away in late November for a normal winter, my biggest concern is that the bees may still run out of food, long before they normally would in February or March. Having said that, I began again, feeding liquid syrup 2:1 ratio of sugar to water on Dec. 20-21 in order to help them build up their food stores once again, maybe switch over to the hard candy before the weather turns worse. Common wisdom is that the bees will consume about 25 pounds of food during January. I urge you to check your bees and their food supply; the bees will thank you later by surviving. Keep in mind, that if we do get the predicted heavy snows, you will need to make sure their entrance is cleared to allow ventilation.

January is also the time to pay membership dues and to order your equipment for the coming season, it will give you plenty of time to build and paint. It is a great time to catch up on reading the latest bee magazines or books that you were too busy to read during the holidays. You could also sign up for our 21st annual Beginning Beekeeping Workshop to be held on March 12, at the Lakewood Oaks Golf Club in Lee's Summit. My wife and I took three beginning beekeeping classes before we had bees, one in September, early December, and March. It's not that we're slow learners, we wanted to get different perspectives, and that's what our Beekeeping Workshop offers with all the different topics and speakers. Please join us for our General meeting - January 10, 2:30 pm and the Nuc Initiative meeting on January 21, 7:00 pm. Our meetings will now be held at Bass Pro (lower level) in the Conservation Room. Thank you, Bob.

Happy New Year

Cathy Misko

2015 Past President

Many thanks to Cathy Misko, Past President of the Midwestern Beekeepers for her years of dedicated service to this association. Reprinted here is her final address that she gave at the December meeting:

All healthy organisms reproduce and it is important to have fresh ideas and new blood. When the bees reproduce and swarm, the workers quit feeding the queen so she loses weight helping her to fly—They push her out and she takes off with about 30,000 bees leaving a fresh new queen to carry on. I will not take 30,000 with me and unfortunately I have not lost any weight! How the organization has benefited me—thank you from my whole heart. I hope that the new president and board will grow and benefit as I have.

The honey bee produces only 1/12 teaspoon—just a drop in her life time but it sweetens much. I have made 2 sided Honey Drops (I heated a jewel and pressed it into cold butter to make an impression. I then took a medical dropper, filled the impression with water, and re-measured how much water the impression held. It held .4 ml which is the equivalent to 1/12 of a teaspoon.) These are gifts to remind you that it only takes a drop of honey to sweeten or help another in this world.

Honey Drops: One side resembles you and the other side is symbolic for Midwestern or another in your life that helps along the way. Thank you and continue to invest in each other.

Midwestern Beekeepers wants to express our gratitude to Tanya Fisher, 2015 Third Vice President and Membership Chair, Terry O'Brien, 2015 Third Board Member and Cheryl Westra, 2015 Webmaster. Tanya, Terry and Cheryl have worked diligently and faithfully to execute their positions and we wish them well as they step down. Also stepping down is Roger Wood, who wrote the monthly column, "Basic Beekeeping." Roger, we appreciate all the thorough tips you provided during the year.

Much appreciation goes to Graceway Church and Jay and Andrea Greenwood for the use of their fellowship hall and assistance.

We extend our sympathies to the family of member Raymon Lewis November 23, 1939 - November 12, 2015. He was a hobbyist beekeeper in California in the 1970s and 1992 Past President of the Orange County Beekeepers Association. A friend of the bees, Mr. Lewis will be missed.

2016 Officers

Bob Williams
President

Hi, I'm Bob Williams, I joined Midwestern Beekeepers in 2013 along with my wife Michelle. We live south of Belton, Mo. on small acreage where we currently maintain 10 bee hives. One of my goals this year, is to hopefully inspire other members to volunteer within the association for outreach projects, being a mentor, and to help out at the state fair. We are an all volunteer association, and for everyone that volunteers, it eases the load on the rest of us. I will strive to do my bit, and as the saying goes, a whole lot of little bits will make a big difference. Thank you ,Bob.

Tom Britz
1st Vice President
Programs Chair

I took Midwestern Beekeeper's Beginning Beekeepers class in 2009 and have been a member ever since. We have 8 hives and 1 nuc located on our land near Merwin, MO. We hope to overwinter our nuc for the nuc initiative this spring. My goal is to bring informative programs to the beginner and advanced beekeeper alike.

Dean Sanders
Director

Dean also serves as the Missouri State Beekeepers Association Liaison.

Wanda Johnston
2nd Vice President
Membership Chair

About five years ago we joined Midwestern Beekeepers and we paid for lifetime membership in December 2013. We currently have 4 hives but we have had up to 10 hives. I hope to maintain the high standards of Tanya Fisher in keeping the membership records. I look forward to serving Midwestern Beekeepers Association as the 2nd Vice President, Membership Chair.

Janice Britz
3rd Vice President
Publicity Chair/
Editor

After Tom was a beekeeper for a couple of years, I took my first Beginning Beekeepers Class in 2011 and became a member. We live in Peculiar MO but our 8 hives are located on our 80 acres near Merwin MO. My goal is to produce a newsletter that is informative and educational and to make Midwestern Beekeepers Association a resource for beekeepers in our area.

Steve DeCaigney
Director

Steve joined Midwestern Beekeepers in 2010. We currently have 24 hives located in Independence, Levasy, and Creighton, Missouri

Cindy Connell
Secretary

I joined MBA in 2009. We have 5 hives in the middle of 5 acres. My goal is to have accurate information for those who cannot make it to the meetings.

Wes Johnston
Treasurer

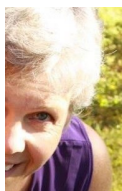

About five years ago we joined Midwestern Beekeepers and we paid for lifetime membership in December 2013. We currently have 4 hives but we have had up to 10 hives. I plan to include the Treasurer's Report in the newsletter and on the web site to promote enhanced transparency of the club's finances. I look forward to serving Midwestern Beekeepers Association for another year as Treasurer.

Tom O'Neill
Librarian

I've been a member of the Midwestern Beekeepers Association about six years, four as the librarian. I usually have eight to ten hives in the summer and drop back to six or seven going into winter months. I keep my hives close to my house south of Warrensburg. As many of you have seen I usually bring in several large bins of books each regular meeting. My hope is to list our library books on our web page and let members select titles from there, and then, let me know which books to bring. If this works out it would greatly reduce the number of books I bring in each month, bringing only the selected titles and the most recently added to the library.

You're always welcome to stop by the library table and see what's available to check out. See you at our next meeting

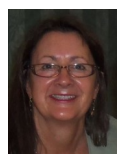

Laura Fish
Director

We joined in 2011 or 2012 (Andy Nowacheck was pres!). I have one nuc in our backyard for pollination only and Pete has 10 hives in 2 different locations (Parkville and Farley Mo). I want to see our Association please all who attend from the advanced thru the beginner beekeeper. I think we have a great opportunity to become a very strong and informational source for beekeepers!

Michelle Williams
Webmaster/
Social Media

Hello my name is Michelle Williams, my husband and I joined the association back in 2013 and have met a lot of great people, that's why we decided to get more involved. We live south of Belton on some property that we currently have 10 hives. My goal this year is to maintain the great website that Cheryl created. I will do my best to keep it updated, fresh and more user friendly where our members can find all the important information to help them be successful beekeepers. Thank you, Michelle .

Cathy Misko
2015 Past President

Ex-officio member of the 2016 Executive Board. Cathy also serves as the Youth Scholarship Chair.

FYI from the Editor

By Janice Britz

Midwestern Beekeeper's Association is off to a great start in 2016. Cheryl Westra, the outgoing webmaster, has recently updated our website to the new logo and web design prepared for our association by Angela Blomberg, recent graduate from Avila University under the direction of Susan Lawlor, M.F.A., Chair of the Department of Art and Design. Many thanks, Cheryl, for all your dedication and hard work.

Cathy Misko, Past President, is speaking at the 2016 American Beekeeping Federation Conference and Tradeshow at Ponte Vedra Beach, Florida. Safe travels, Cathy, and we look forward to you sharing your experience with us upon your return.

Bee Culture Magazine is launching a brand new beginner's magazine entitled BEEkeeping Your First Three Years.

"A quarterly, newsstand-only offering, the very first issue has articles aimed specifically at brand new, and not quite so brand new beekeepers looking for solid, factual and reliable beekeeping information from sources that they can trust.

The first issue features Roy Hendrickson on Successful Beekeeping, Buzz Phillis on Finding Beeyards, Ann Harman on What To Do And Why, and, Finding Answers, Kim Flottum on 10 Rules, Les Crowder on Top Bar Hives, Toni Burnham on Urban Beekeeping, New Products, Jim Tew on Beekeeping Equipment and Getting Bees by Phil Craft, and regional reports by Jennifer Berry, Dewey Caron and others.

Available nationwide in TSC Farm stores, Barnes & Noble, Hastings and Books-A-Million Bookstores, and hundreds of independent book stores all over the map, the new Quarterly will arrive on Newsstands the week of December 21, and remain available (unless sold out) until the end of March.

Future issues will focus on using individual pieces of equipment, examining hives, seasonal plants in the various regions of the U.S. and especially seasonal management no matter where you live, and so much, much more to enable new, inexperienced beekeepers be successful and enjoy their endeavor."

See you at our January meetings,
Janice

WAIVER / BINDER

We/I understand that honey bees are unpredictable and that the applicant, participating parent or guardian, and observers risk being stung by the bees. All medical treatment is the responsibility of the applicant's parents or guardian. Special risks, including death, from allergic reaction to bee venom, are inherent for (a) persons allergic to bee stings and (b) those who do not know whether they are allergic to bee stings, when those persons practice bee-keeping, and although protective gear is being provided to the applicant, it is not a guarantee against being stung.

We/I understand that by signing this waiver I am releasing the Midwestern Beekeepers Association, its board members and officers, the beekeeping mentor and all other MBA members from any liability for all claims for damages and losses of any kind, including those arising from any accidents or mishaps which may occur to the applicant and/or the participating parent in the pursuit of this project.

We/I also understand the bee colony and equipment will be located on owned property of the participating parent or guardian and will remain the property of the MBA and cannot be sold, given away or destroyed during the qualifying period without the written consent of the same.

In the event that the applicant loses interest or can no longer pursue the beekeeping project, MBA will be notified and the equipment and bee colony will be returned to the same.

Upon successful completion of the qualifying term and the satisfaction of stated conditions, the recipient will be presented a Certificate of Ownership upon such completion of the program and receive ownership of the beehive and related equipment.
